TELEGRAPHIC
THE WAR.

AS AN indication of the sort of company ex-Gov. Hendricks has fallen into since he arrived in Europe, it may be interesting to Democrats to learn that he and ex-Gov. Warmoth, of Louisiana, with their wives, have been traveling together through Ireland.

THE Wisconsin Republican Convention is called to meet at Madison, Sept. 11. The Milwaukee Sentinel wishes it understood that the Republicans of Wisconsin have never for a moment despaired of carrying the state, and expect, indeed, to roll up this year even more than the average majority.

Ben DeBar, the famous theatrical actor and manager, has been prostrated by a paralytic stroke, and is now lying very low at his home in St. Louis.

THE NEW LAW OF LABOR.

(From the Globe-Democrat) It is much to be regretted that the untimely and injudicious interference of the police and of the military has arrested the development of a new theory of political economy which promised to be as valuable as it was original. The professors of the new theory, some of whom had come from Europe for the sole purpose of enlightening the enlightened American mind on the true relations of labor and capital, and others of whom had abandoned comfortable situations in their eagerness to embrace the new teaching, are now languishing in dungeon vile, and the prospect is that their temporary seclusion and their enforced attention to the study of municipal geology may discourage them from the further pursuit of political economy. But their doctrine will not wholly be lost to the world, for enough has already been revealed to enable us to lay down the principles and to outline the dimensions of the new science.

Under the old rule, the workman who was not satisfied with his wages was as free to go as he had been to come; the employer was free to quit, the rate of wages represented an agreement between two interested parties. Under this stupid old plan, we might have gotten along well enough if we had never learned anything better, but now we know that when the workman does not like his wages, his proper remedy is to seize on his employer's property, and, if the owner remonstrates, to attack the owner's neighbors and seize on their property. If the police, in the blindness of their ignorance, attempt to interfere with this pleasant little arrangement, the workman must proceed to burn down everything in sight, to stop all industrial operations throughout the country, and murder everybody who attempts to enforce the law. As an encouragement to him in enforcing these simple and natural rights, judicious exponents of the new school will explain to him that everybody's property belongs to somebody else, that every man who owns anything is a thief, and that the only way to restore society to its true condition is to burn everything that can not be confiscated, and confiscate everything that can not be burned.

Thus far had the new gospel of labor been expounded when the minions of the law laid violent hand on the apostles and clapped them in the calaboose. But the truth crushed to earth rises, and the dullest intellect can see at a glance that the workman has only discharged one-half of his duty to himself when he has fixed his clutch of wages. After he has clutched his employer by the throat and compelled him by threats of arson and murder to accede to his views on the wages question, he may still find himself oppressed by the capitalists who conspire to extort money from him in return for furnishing him with clothing, food and lodging. He is insulted by seeing an ostentatious plumed in front of the clothing store with the legend: "This Fine Suit of Clothes, $10." Under the old plan, if he had not $10, he would not attempt to buy the fine suit; under the new plan, the cause of labor demands that he should take the suit if he wants it, and pay $5 for it if he is willing—if he is not he can pay $1; or if, as is most likely, the monopolist of the clothing store objects, he may take as many suits as he likes, and then burn the store.

It is the same with food and fuel and lodging, and medicine, doctor's bills, street-car fares, and other necessities of life. Bloated capitalists who have eggs for sale insult committees by offering two dozen for a quarter. The hen is a monopolist; she allows no one else to lay eggs, and charges monopoly prices. Meat is a bit a pound, when it would be more convenient to pay 5 cents a pound. In fact, the whole organization of supply and demand is an insult to the Executive Committee of the Workmen's Union; and if it had not been for that untimely interference which we have regretted, there can be no doubt that the right of the workmen to fix his own price on the commodities he buys would have been established as firmly as his right to fix the price of the commodity he sells. The doctrine that property is a monopoly and ownership a theft is a plain and simple one, and no one can pretend that there is any difficulty in tracing out its legitimate consequences.

A TERRIBLE MURDER IN MISSOURI.

Slaughter of a Whole Family.

SHOOTING AFFRAY AT OCONEE.

CINCINNATI, August 4.—Seven colored men arrived in Cincinnati to-day on the Louisville Short Line train having been actually banished from Kentucky soil and forbidden to return, under penalty of death. They are all well-to-do farmers of Henry county, where they left homes, families, farms and growing crops. They were taken out of their fields in working clothes and driven away by an armed mob of several hundred neighbors. They are here waiting for their families, and intend to move into Central Ohio to settle. Smith Grant, a handsome, intelligent mulatto, of thirty, is the cause of the trouble. For five years past he has been criminally intimate with the wife of Joseph Campbell, a farmer, who lives near Campbellsburg, Ky. Mrs. Campbell is a handsome, winsome woman of twenty-eight, married six years ago. The two have long been suspected, but nothing was fixed on them till Friday, when she confessed to her husband and said she loved Grant. Campbell and his brother during the night gathered the neighbors for the purpose of lynching Grant. They finally relented and promised Grant that if he left the state never to return they would spare him. The mob embraced six of his friends, namely: Chas. Perry, Gus. O'Far, Jarratt Allen, Scott, his father-in-law, Nelson Gaff and Fred. Reed, all married men. The mob bought the seven men through tickets to Cincinnati and sent them off on the train. Grant admitted to an Engager reporter his treason with Mrs. Campbell and says she told him she would allow him.

LONDON, August 4.—A Vienna correspondent of the Times heard from Constantinople that reinforcements are daily arriving and being immediately dispatched to Adrianople. The Times Bucharest correspondent, reviewing the situation, says he thinks the panic in Roumania is groundless. The Plovna defeat will certainly be retrieved. In discussing the Russian chance of holding their positions in the Balkans, if obliged to retire to them, the Times correspondent, who recently passed through the Schipka Pass, telegraphs that it is strongly occupied and fortified. Prince Minsky and General Gourko might hold it for a fortnight on full rations.

A dispatch from Sukumalch, dated Aug. 2, says the Turkish frigate Marmidj bombarded the Russian batteries at Tchamchir on the 30th inst., resulting in silencing every Russian gun. Near Tchamchir there 6,000 Turks in a critical position, owing to the advance of the Russian army. Hobart Pasha embarked his entire force safely on the 1st inst., under cover of the guns of the fleet. This completes the withdrawal of the Turkish military expedition of the capitalists who conspire to extort money from him in return for furnishing him with clothing, food and lodging. He is insulted by seeing an ostentatious plumed in front of the clothing store with the legend: "This Fine Suit of Clothes, $10." Under the old plan, if he had not $10, he would not attempt to buy the fine suit; under the new plan, the cause of labor demands that he should take the suit if he wants it, and pay $5 for it if he is willing—if he is not he can pay $1; or if, as is most likely, the monopolist of the clothing store objects, he may take as many suits as he likes, and then burn the store.

It is the same with food and fuel and lodging, and medicine, doctor's bills, street-car fares, and other necessities of life. Bloated capitalists who have eggs for sale insult committees by offering two dozen for a quarter. The hen is a monopolist; she allows no one else to lay eggs, and charges monopoly prices. Meat is a bit a pound, when it would be more convenient to pay 5 cents a pound. In fact, the whole organization of supply and demand is an insult to the Executive Committee of the Workmen's Union; and if it had not been for that untimely interference which we have regretted, there can be no doubt that the right of the workmen to fix his own price on the commodities he buys would have been established as firmly as his right to fix the price of the commodity he sells. The doctrine that property is a monopoly and ownership a theft is a plain and simple one, and no one can pretend that there is any difficulty in tracing out its legitimate consequences.

LONDON, Aug. 5.—The Times correspondent who left the Russian camp before Plevna, Thursday, says: The Russian advance guard is within six miles of Plevna, the main body occupies a strong position nine miles further east, on a range of hills running nearly north and south. Strong reinforcements have already reached General Krudener's corps, which is able to resist any offensive movement of Osman Pasha, should one be attempted, which is not very probable. The Russians have suffered a disastrous check, but that is all. The second pontoon bridge at Simitz is nearly completed, and will be ready for use in a few days. The old bridge is still in good order.

LONDON, Aug. 6.—The Times correspondent before Plevna, writing under date of Aug. 2nd, says: It is hardly probable that any renewal of the attack will be made for the next ten days as the Russians need time to bring up reinforcements.

ALEXANDRIA, Mo., August 3.—A horrible murder was committed in this (Clark) county last night, five miles west of the town of Luray, by which five human beings were sent to eternity in the dead hour of night and without a moment's warning. The circumstances, briefly related, are about as follows:

Lewis Spencer, a highly respected farmer, aged 47, his two daughters, aged 17 and 19, and two sons, aged 11 and 13, were found this morning between 5 and 6 o'clock, by Mr. S. James, who had gone to the house to help his brother in law harvest—soo cold in death and others dying. Spencer was a widower, and from the surrounding, it appears that he and the oldest boy had gone to the barn loft for a cool night's rest, leaving the younger boy and two girls to sleep on the first floor of the house. James, on entering the room was horrified at the bloody spectacle before him. There lay the lifeless body of the youngest girl on the floor, one side of her head crushed to a pulpy mass, the other side showing evidence of having been penetrated by some sharp instrument; by her side was the still breathing form of her little brother, the life blood slowly oozing from similar wounds in the head. On further search the oldest girl was found in a room up stairs, but the demons had done their work. The blows given on her were on the head. Mr. James now terrified beyond expression at the shocking sight, felt that his work was not yet completed. He next sought the father and oldest son, he then turned his steps toward the barn, and as he entered the door a low sad moan from the loft caught his ear, which told him in tones unmistakable that the bloody fiends had done their work but too well. Ascending the ladder, there, upon the new mown hay, lay the old man and his eldest boy. The latter was dead, and from the ghastly wounds inflicted on the old man, it was certain he could not live long. The wounds were similar to those inflicted on the rest, the heads bruised and mashed in by blows from a heavy, blunt instrument.

Right here may as well be said, that after the alarm was given, an axe and pitchfork were found near the premises, which bore evidence of being of death dealing weapons. At this writing but few more particulars of the murder can be given. Lewis Spencer was township trustee, a man of few words, a quiet citizen, and had no personal enemies. The murderers—there certainly was more than one—undoubtedly were instigated to their terrible crime with the expectation of getting several hundred dollars. It was reported Spencer unopposed. The Turks at Plevna have received a reinforcement of 4,000 Albanian cavalry. The Russian forces are between Svisi and Tirovo, holding strong defensive positions. General Gourko is charged with the duty of protecting the south outlets of the passes of the Balkans.

Vienna, Aug. 5.—Strategically the most important news from the seat of war is the occupation of Selvi. This exposes Tirovo and the Balkan passes. Gen. Gourko's corps is said to be short of provisions and ammunition. Runchuk is no longer invested from the land side, and communication with Shurash was opened yesterday. Gen. Gourko has sent word to Tirnova that his forces are too much scattered to protect Christians in various places against a certainty of massacre. Mohamed Ali has appointed Raschid Pasha chief of artillery, and Blum Pasha commander of Varna. Both are Prussians.

Suleiman Pasha occupied Kuzenlik, on Sunday, and thereby has access to Schipka and Trivonca passes.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—A good portion of the President's message, upon the re-assembling of Congress will be devoted to the consideration of the labor question. It is known that at numerous Cabinet meetings held within the two past weeks this subject has been discussed in all other matters. Several members of the Cabinet are known to favor the passage of a law providing for organization of a commission which shall have due regard for the interest of all concerned, producers, merchants, railroad employees and capitalist, so that on any question a fair compromise may be effected. A member of the Cabinet in a recent conversation spoke of this plan and argued it at Congress has the right to pass such law under the clause of the Constitution authorizing that body to regulate commerce with foreign nations and among the several states and with Indian tribes. Such commission might be vested with power to examine into the desirability of chartering new railroads, and might require certain conditions to be fulfilled, so as to establish a reasonable certainty that the projected road would be remunerative, and that the company would have means to pay for its construction, and thus avoid disastrous failures.

FORT WAYNE, IND., August 4.—The News, to-night, contains a charge, which, if true, reveals a frightful state of affairs in the County Asylum. It says the inmates are fed on spoiled meat and vile food of various kinds, that the quantity furnished is insufficient, that the signs are neglected and maltreated in a shocking manner, not being provided with water for drinking or bathing, or furnished with medicinal, that several inmates have been locked in cells and kept for a number of weeks without attendance or proper food; that several inmates died alone and unattended, whose bodies bear marks of violence by their overseers. If one-quarter of what is charged is true, there is a condition of affairs at this institution which defies description. The county commissioners will make an investigation next week.

CONSTANTINOPLE, August 5.—The Porte has made public the following intelligence: The Russians have been completely defeated at Yesi Saghra with considerable loss, including two guns, a large quantity of baggage and equipments. They fled in disorder to Kainoogah Pass, which is occupied by Subiman Pasha, who pursued them.

BUCHAREST, Aug. 5.—A Turkish division from Lovatz have occupied Selvi unopposed. The Turks at Plevna have received a reinforcement of 4,000 Albanian cavalry. The Russian forces are between Selvi and Tirovo, holding strong defensive positions. General Gourko is charged with the duty of protecting the south outlets of the Balkans.

KANKAKEE gets the Insane Asylum on a strict party vote, "as the reporter would say," of four to three. The original programme was carried out to the letter, though the force of visiting the different competitive points might have been omitted. As a leading man of Springfield stated, it was purely a Kankakee measure. The bill was prepared by a Kankakee man, and some gentlemen favorable to that point were secured for the commission. There are certain professional managers in the state who want these state institutions scattered as much as possible, in order to secure co-operative legislation for certain State House purposes.—Bloomington Pantograph.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Post E. A. Gottman has gone to Normal, where he is to assist, for the next three weeks, in the McLean county Teachers' Institute.

J. A. Glose has returned from a visit to New York State. He returned by way of Chicago and Iowa, and reports that the finest crop his eyes ever beheld was in the latter state. The Empire State is also blessed with an abundant harvest of those grains which have already been gathered, and a fine prospect for those that are yet growing.

Dr. S. C. Ham, of Argenta, was in the city to day, and called at the Republican office. He reports considerable sickness in Friends Creek, mostly bilious complaints, some of which take the form of typhoid fever.

E. A. Piper, of Taylorville, was in town to day, and was warmly greeted by his many old friends. By the way, he tells a good story, in which Phil Reinken figures, and Chillicothe comes in as one of the places spoken of.

Hon. Wm. M. Stanley, editor of the Sullivan Journal, is here, attending circuit court.

Capt. W. E. Winkoltz, of Chicago, is in town, visiting the friends of long ago. He is at present an attache of the county clerk's office in Chicago.

House and Cattle medicines at "Our Drug Store."

Jones & Brother are sending out some of the finest livery rigs ever seen in this part of the state.

Mr. H. W. Davis, of Long Creek, brought a basket of nice eating apples to the Republican office, which soon found the "true inwardness" of the boys.

Those beautiful lambrequins at Abel & Locke's attract much attention on the part of the ladies.

A chilling air at night and a hot sun by day are said to be favorable to a big crop of chilling and fever.

Birkett & Bullock make cigars that suit the boys to a dot.

Chamomile skins, sponges and a full line of brushes, at Armstrong's.

For choice meats and fresh vegetables go to C. W. Young's market on Prairie street.

Choko dairy butter and fresh eggs are always to be had at Niedermeyer's, near the mound.

Choko apples and other fruit received fresh every day at Newell & Hammer's.

Leave orders at Gue & Son's drug store, or at the Eclipse livery stable, for Caldwell Brothers' hack. It meets all trains by day or night.

Taylor's hack runs to all parts of the city to take and leave passengers. Leave orders at Armstrong's drug store.

Time flies, and in order to make a correct note of it, go to H. Post's, on Merchant street, and get one of those beautiful time-keepers which he is selling so cheap. Call soon.

Barnum's show bills are among the adornments of the city at present, as they attract much attention, and some of the juveniles study them with great care.

Martin & Co. are troubling the people by the dozen to day. Clerks of the election and many others are living on the lot of the land at his table at Miller's old stand on East Main street.

The festive watermelon made its appearance on the streets on Saturday, and we may look for exhibitions from Juvenile contortionists at an early day.

Several chaps who had forgotten that this was election day experienced a keen pang of disappointment as they tried the saloon doors where they were accustomed to take their morning "ton" and found them fastened.

Mad shows have gone "where the woodbine twieth," though we understand that some are booked for the autumn months.

One week from next Wednesday is to be the great day of the season in Decatur. Every "feller" in the country that can muster a dollar bill and a quarter for "knuckle-knucks," will be on hand with his "gal" and surging masses will throng the streets from early morn till dewy eve. It is Barnum's show day.

In speaking of the effects of the late strike on Monticello, the Bulletin of that city says:

The railroad strike has had a serious and sober effect on Monticello. There haven't been more than three cars of coal received here for over a week.

The Lovington Free Press, bearing date August 3d, has the following paragraph:

Six fast horses, the property of Sam. Powers, Esq., of Decatur, stopped over here last night. They were on their way to Sullivan where they have been entered as competitors in the coming Horse Fair.

An exchange illustrates the disposition of people to find fault with the weather in the following paragraph, which we hold before the face of our readers as a mirror, in which they may see reflected the "true inwardness" of themselves.

Two months ago the great need of this country was dry weather. It came, and the people were happy. The first few days that it didn't rain everybody was delighted; many said they didn't want to see any more rain for two months, and a few of the more impulsive thought we could do very well without any more rain this summer. Only about a month has passed since we had a general soaking rain, and yet the universal cry is for rain. And this cry comes louder, too, from the very ones who thought we wouldn't need any more rain this summer. They now think we are right on the brink of ruin, and nothing short of a good, soaking rain can possibly save us.

Fell in a fit.—This afternoon a man, whose name we did not learn, fell in a fit in the open lot south of the Republican office. He lay for a few moments, and then picked himself up and walked away.

Another Reduction in Prices.—Einstein has reduced his price on all summer goods, and will offer them from this day on at cost.

FOR THE REPUBLICAN.

ACROSTIC.

BY J. HERD DILLS.

Earth's great poetic singers are
My joy from dawn to kindling stat!
Mid lumen of my deserted room,
A hundred pleasures 'round me bloom—
As, wrapt in Fancy's fairy spell,
Leased to a minister-ly I dwell.
I early heard the bards that fame
Can boast, each old, each modern name;
Entranced with these, time's onward flow
Brought notes that matchless seemed—but O!

Rose soon from Cecil's southern clime
Overmastering melody sublime!

Which hushed the strains of old renown;

Ne'er time that singer's voice shall drown—

Enduring shuns her destined crowd!

Have You Dyspepsia?

With its attendant troubles, constipation, headache, loss of appetite, gloominess, water-brash, distress after eating, etc! If so, the result is astonishing, and sure relief is guaranteed in every case, where it is used as directed. It assists digestion, tones up the stomach, strengthens the debilitated, restores a natural appetite, and as a liver regulator has no equal. A clergyman of Philadelphia says: It is the very fountain of health. To all who are suffering from a disordered stomach or liver, or who need a gentle Spring and Summer tonic, we say try it, and you will thank us for the advice. Trial size 25 cents. Sold by Dr. J. C. Stoner, Decatur, Ill. Also agents for Prof. Parker's Pleasant Worm Syrup, which is sure death to worms. Pleasant to take, and requires no physic. Price 25 cents. Try it.
